EXTRACTS FROM MAUNSELL B. FIELDS "MEMORIES OF MANY MEN."

From Harper's Magazine for December.

CHASE.

We all remember the movement that was made, previous to Mr. Lincoln's second nomination at Baltimore, to bring Mr. Chase forward as a competing candidate. That Mr. Chase was himself in no wise reluctant cannot be denied, although I know that he all along doubted that such a movement had any chance of success. In those days he failed to appreciate Mr. Lincoln at his true value, as, I think, Mr. Lincoln failed to appreciate him. Indeed, it would be impossible to imagine two men more unlike and having fewer points of contact. Mr. Lincoln, at least, was entirely deficient in what the phrenologists call reverence. No man who ever lived could be in his presence and dominate him, as the French express it. There is a certain sort of intellectual atmosphere different from, if not higher than, that in which he moved, and he troubled himself very little about it, or about those who dwelt in it. At any rate, he instinctively conceded nothing of superiority to anybody, and often failed to comprehend those whose mental plane was different from his own. Mr. Chase honestly felt his superiority to Mr. Lincoln in some respects, and would not be reconciled to his undignified manners and strange ways. While the movement to bring Mr. Chase forward as a Presidential candidate was being agitated, a United States Senator, who actively participated in it, one day came into my office in a towering rage. Striking his fist upon my desk, he said to me that he considered Chase the———ost (using a very strong expletive) fool in the world. He then went on to tell me that he and others had been unsuccessfully laboring with the Secretary to induce him to issue a "cotton permit" to somebody precisely as he would issue one to any respectable person, only that the profits were to be applied in the interest of his nomination instead of going into private pockets. There was an amount of principle and delicacy involved in Mr. Chase's refusal which the Senatorial mind uterly failed to appreciate.

When speaking of Mr. Chase's Presidential aspirations, I am reminded, as Mr. Lincoln used to say, of a little story. When I first went to Washington the Secretary occupied for his office a room on the south side of the Treasury Building, with a beautiful outlook down the Potomac. Soon afterward it was proposed that he should remove to certain elaborately ornamented and elegantly furnished rooms on the west side of the building, which had been arranged for his occupation by Mr. Mullett, the architect of the department. Mr. Chase had consented to make the change, but after the new rooms were ready he delayed removing. Several times he appointed a day to do so, but when to time had come he had changed his mind. One afternoon, while he was still hesitating, I was standing with him at one of the windows of the largest of the new rooms, which faced the Executive Mansion. Turning to me, he asked me to assign one sufficient reason why he should change his quarters. I told him that there was at least one obvious advantage in the exchange, and that was that if he should come to these offices he would be able to always keep his eye upon the White House.

Mr. Chase was a man of an extremely nervous temperament, and he would sometimes be very violent, and occasionally even unjust, while swept by a gale of passion. On one occasion Senator Fessenden came into my room in a terrible rage, occassioned by a scolding which he had received from the Secretary. Gov. Brough, of Ohio, visited Washington in the year 1864, and being an experienced railroad man, and familiar with the cost of transportation, explained to Mr. Chase the fearful extravagance of the Quartermaster's Department in the west. Mr. Stanton, unfortunately for himself, happened to come into the Secretary's room shortly after the Governor had left it, when he received such a verbal castigation at the hands of Mr. Chase as few men would have ventured to inflict upon the great War Secretary. What was more remarkable, however, he bore it with great meekness.

But Mr. Chase was always just after the moment of anger had passed, and knew how to be magnanimous.

LINCOLN' JOKES.

I was once in Mr. Lincoln's company when a sectarian discussion arose. He himself looked very grave, and made no observation until all the others had finished what they had to say. Then, with a twinkle of the eye, he remarked that he preferred the Episcopalians to every other sect, because they are equally indifferent to a man's religion and his politics.

It happened that at one time a blockade runner going out of Charleston harbor was captured, and on board of her were found certain dispatches from the Spanish Consul in that city for his own Government. These dispatches were very improperly opened by the captor, and then forwarded to the State Department at Washington. Mr. Seward, immediately after he received them, sent them to the Spanish Minister, Mr. Tassara, and, with expressions of great regret that the envelopes had been tampered with, offered him the dispatches. The Minister, highly indignant, declined to receive them. Then Mr. Seward proposed to forward them to their destination through the medium of our own agents. This proposition was equally unacceptable, and the Secretary of State was at a loss what to do. He shortly afterward explained the difficulty to the President, whom it reminded of a "little story." "When I lived in Indiana," he said, "there resided very near us an old negro known as 'Uncle Josh.' He He was a very pious darkey, but was so infirm that it was impossible for him to go to the neighboring school house to listen to any itinerant preacher who might happen to discourse there on a Sunday. However, in order to make up as far as possible for his own inability to attend, he always compelled his grandchildren to go,; and they were required not only to recollect the text, but also to be able to give the old man some account of the sermon. On one occasion a Methodist came and preached. He told the congregation that there were two kinds of people in the world, Methodists and Baptists; that the Methodists followed a road that led to heaven, and the Baptists one that led to hell. The next Sunday there presented himself a hard-shell Baptist who had heard about the sermon of his Methodist brother. He told his auditors that it was true that there were two kinds of people in the world, Methodists and Baptists, and that they followed different roads; but that it was the Baptist road that led to heaven, and the Methodist road that led to hell. When old uncle Josh heard this he scratched his wool and said: "Each one says that there only two roads, and that his own leads to heaven, and the other to hell. Well, this old nigger will go across lots!" Seward, you will have to go across lots!"

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:
Wednesday Evening, Nov. 26.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The following proclamation has been promulgated by the President of the United States:

A PROCLAMATION—The approaching close of another year brings with it the occasion for renewed thanksgiving and acknowledgement to the Almighty Ruler of the universe for the mercies which he has bestowed upon us. Abundant harvests have been among the rewards of industry; with local exceptions, health has been among the many blessings enjoyed: tranquility at home and peace with other nations have prevailed; frugality and industry are gaining their merited position and reward under the providence of God, surely as we trust, and the nation is recovering from the lingering result of the dreadful civil strife. For these and all other mercies vouchsafed, it becomes us as a people, to return heartfelt and grateful acknowledgements, and with our thanksgiving for the blessings we may unite prayers for the cessation of local and temporary suffering. I therefore recommend that on Thursday, the 27th day of November, the people meet in their respective places of worship to make their acknowledgement to Almighty God for his bounties and his protection, and offer to him prayers for their continuance:

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this 15th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1873, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-seventh. U. S. GRANT.
By the President,
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, }
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
SPRINGFIELD, October 23, 1873. }

In obedience to custom, and in conformity with the action of the President, I, John L. Beveridge, Governor of the State of Illinois, do appoint THURSDAY, the 27th day of November next, a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the mercies and blessings of another year. Let all the people give thanks in the sanctuary, rejoice at home, and be glad in their hearts.

THANKSGIVING.

By common consent, as well as by official recommendation, one day in each year is set apart for general thanksgiving, and so universally has the custom been adopted in this country that the day has come to be regarded as a public holiday. The thanksgiving proper may possibly be overlooked, but the feasting and the other concomitants of a holiday are most religiously observed.

Captious individuals will be likely to cynically inquire to-morrow, what blessings have been vouchsafed to the people of the United States, during the year of grace 1873, that should call for any special demonstration in the way of thankfulness. It is true that financial distress and business depression prevail throughout the country. It is true that rumors of war are descending like a mist over the land. It is true that various localities in our country have been most grievously afflicted by pestilence during the year, and that in others want and famine threaten the people. The outlook, however, is not so gloomy as the croakers would have us believe. The land is rich in everything that makes a people prosperous and happy, and panic and distress cannot long disturb our general prosperity. The air may be thick with the rumors of war, but we have reason to be grateful that such a dire calamity is not courted by those in authority, and that if it can be averted honorably it will be done. The pestilence, which stalked abroad at noonday, and gathered in its clammy embrace young and old, good and bad, rich and poor, has disappeared from our borders, and we should give thanks not only for its subsidence but also for the sublime manifestations of charity, sympathy and sorrow which its prevalence called forth. We should give most heartfelt thanks for the preservation of this benign spirit of humanity which the frauds and corruptions of the age have not sufficed to obliterate.

And it might be well to inquire whether there could possibly exist such a state of affairs as would leave us nothing to be thankful for. The most dire calamities seldom fail to leave in their train some grains of good, and though it may be difficult to separate them from the dross of evil by which they are surrounded, they only shine the brighter by the contrast when chance or design uncovers their brilliancy. And would it not be well for us to consider this fact in connection with our annual thanksgiving? Would it not be profitable for us to sift out the good things we have enjoyed during the year, and carefully weighing them determine whether they do not more than balance the calamities and evils. This is not a bad world, after all, and we doubt whether the most complaining among us cannot find in their lives something worth being thankful for, even during a year of calamity.

THE Railroad Gazette says that 3,228 miles of railroad were completed in the United States in 1873.

CHICAGO elevators at the commencement of business on Tuesday contained 301,298 bushels of wheat; 882-172 bushels of corn; 225,236 bushels of oats; 38,736 bushels of rye, and 401,194 bushels of barley, making a total of 1,818,695 bushels of all kinds of grain, against 2,551,076 bushels a week since, and 1,926,070 bushels for the corresponding date last year.

The stock of grain in Milwaukee is reported as follows: Wheat, 221,513 bushels; corn, 20,109 bushels; oats, 6,267 bushels; rye, 3,676 bushels; barley, 95,000 bushels.

The amount of grain "in sight" in the States and Canada on the 15th inst. was 32,532,485 bushels, embracing 8,470,331 bushels of wheat; 8,988,427 bushels of corn; 2,844,271 bushels of oats; 2,033,457 bushels of barley; and 193,999 bushels of rye.

The aggregate export of the articles named from the ports of Portland, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore for the week ending Nov. 22nd were: Flour, 55,352 barrels; wheat, 947,926 bushels; corn 159,000 bushels, pork, 4,803 barrels; bacon, 3,229,000 pounds, lard, 6,327,000 pounds, The exports of the articles named from Chicago for the same period were: 19,401 barrels of flour; 1,666,829 bushels of grain, 600 barrels of beef, 7,839 barrels of pork. 10,071,615 pounds of cut meats; and 3,393 pounds of lard.

THE Philadelphia Bulletin of Thursday published a cut and description of the American Centennial Exposition buildings, which are to be erected in Fairmount Park in accordance with the design prepared by the Committee on Plans and Architecture of the Centennial Commission. The Grand Pavilion will have a length of 2,075 feet, and a width at the center and ends of 1,000 feet. The length of the Agricultural Hall will 1,420 feet, and of the Machinery Hall 2,275 feet. These, as also the Conservatory and Art Gallery, are separate buildings. The Grand Pavilion, as at present contemplated, covers an area of 36.5 acres, with a capacity for expansion to 41 acres. The entire area of the park appropriated for the purposes of the Exposition is 450 acres.

A YEAR ago the democratic and other anti-administration papers were denouncing the army and navy expenses as being too large. The tax-payers were reminded of the fact that the war had ceased seven years ago, and that we had too many ships of war, and too many soldiers and seamen in the public service. They demanded a reduction of expenditures for army and navy purposes to a peace footing. With remarkable consistency these same papers are abusing the administration now because it was not ready to make vigorous war upon a nation possessing a well equipped navy, at a moment's notice.

HARD times don't effect the liquor business at Boston. Here are the figures which the Herald thinks represent the trade in that "prohibited" city: 3,000 liquor shops, running from twelve to eighteen hours per day, patronized by 40,000 customers, who drink 100 barrels of whisky and proportionate amounts of milder beverages daily. As for the profits of the business, a barrel of whisky that doesn't cost $40 at wholesale, brings over $100 by the 15 cent glass.

PERHAPS one of the oddest elections on record occurred at the last general election for members of the General Assembly in Germany. A certain district had only one legal voter, who walked proudly up to the polls and voted for himself, the only eligible member in the district. But when his name was announced as the elected member, he pompously arose, and said, "Messrs Commissioners, I do not accept the election!" and walked gravely off.

A committee of medical men who were summoned to inspect a skeleton suspiciously discovered near Marengo, Iowa, sadly wended their way homeward when they found it a hoop skirt and a joke.

State Capital News

MONTREAL, Can, Nov. 25.—It is estimated that 30,000 French Canadians have returned to this province during the past three weeks, owing largely to stoppage of manufactures. A large proportion of them have left for Western Canada.

NEW YORK, November 25.—The Times says: "The fact is well authenticated that the banking firm of Henry Clews & Co, having effected satisfactory arrangements with the most of their numerous creditors, contemplate a full resumption of business within a few weeks. The presentation of the affairs of this house which was made to its creditors has averted any unfavorable action. The house has resources and opportunities to resume, and to recover its extensive business, and, with a reasonable extension of time, to pay fully 100 cents on the dollar."

The associated banks hold $34,885,000 in legal tenders, an increase of $15,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 25.—General Bane, one of the Penitentiary Commissioners, in reply to an inquiry, says that no differences have arisen between the management of the prison which in any way disturbs the harmony which has existed. An honest difference of opinion as to the course to be pursued in making up certain contracts existed for a short time between the Warden and the Commissioners, but it has been adjusted.

Governor Beveridge telegraphs from Boston that he will reach the capital with his wife and eat his Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday.

HAVANA, Nov, 25.—The Diario de Lamirina has an editorial to-day of which the following is an extract:

"The Washington Government knows to-day, and the United States Congress will soon know, the justice with which the Spanish authorities have acted. They will take care of national honor without suffering themselves to be influenced by the cries of the masses, who know not what these Cuban patriots are. Far from our minds be a feeling of arrogance. Farther still the feeling of fear from our hearts. We neither seek nor shun peril. If the Americans oblige us to fight, fight we will. If the mother country can aid us we will thank her; but if we must contend alone, there are enough Spaniards in Cuba to keep our banner safe. We will sell very dearly that which was once the most brilliant flower of the crown of Castile."

The funeral of Count San Fernando took place to-day.

NEW YORK, November 25.—A Washington dispatch says: "The Secretary of the Navy has directed that orders be issued to suspend work on iron clads, and to detach from the large vessels which were recently ordered into commission all their officers, to await further orders. The transportation of ordnance stores to Key West will also be stopped. There is no possibility, it is said, of settling the diplomatic controversy between Spain and the United States for many months to come, which accounts for these orders."

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Twenty-five hundred men were paid at the Navy Yard, to-day, the greater part of whom have been employed since the outrage upon the Virginius. The work in the yard was going on as usual this afternoon.

The Spanish iron-clad Arapiles has not left the Yard. She was painted to-day, and the last work upon her in the dry dock will be done to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Mr. Blaine has seen but few persons to-day. He regards his election as a foregone conclusion, and has no fears whatever of a combination against him. He has been hard at work arranging the committees for two days, and has prepared himself, by copious information, as to the standing, ability and fitness for special duties of new members.

He is altogether opposed to the idea of a caucus assuming to decide any question in regard to the composition of committees, as he considers that a duty belonging exclusively to the Speaker. He gave no indication whatever of the course he intended to take about the Credit Mobilier question, only saying that he expects to hold two things steadily in view in making up his committees; first, the interest of the public service, and secondly, the welfare of the Republican party. Among the members who have arrived no pressure is being exerted to secure removals from chairmanships on account of Credit Mobilier complications.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 24.—The steamer Zeipka brings news from Hong Kong China that the merchant steamships Marie Louise and Gazelle were brought to that port by a Spanish man of war, having captured them off the coast of China, while on their way to Manila. The Gazelle is a British and the Marie Louise a German vessel. Both the German and British Consuls were notified. The Spanish officers claimed that these vessels were blockade runners.

NEW YORK, November 25.—Work on the Colorado at the Brooklyn Navy Yard has been suspended, to the disgust of the workmen.

FORTRESS MONROE, November 25.—The United States steamer Ossipee and the monitor Mahopac sailed this morning for Key West.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25, 9:55 P. M.—So far as can be ascertained, there has been no change in the Cuban question. In the matter of release of American estates, it is believed here that all causes of trouble are at an end. There was considerable talk in the Cabinet over the report telegraphed here privately from New York, that the Castelar government, according to dispatches from Madrid was almost certain to be overthrown.

Later in the day a member of the Cabinet said a dispatch was received by the government which indicated that Castelar's authority was in no more critical condition than it has been.

The Presidents message, which is nearly completed, except upon Spanish affairs, will be left open until the next Cabinet meeting, and since Spain is taking time to gather official information, it is likely the message will receive its final shaping after the latest dispatches Sunday night or Monday forenoon.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The first intimation, yesterday, of a probable change in the Administration in Spain, with Serrano as Dictator, came through British official sources. To-day the story comes from another quarter that the Castelar Government is to be overthrown by a combination of ruling Spaniards. The plan is said to include the establishment of Marshal Serrano as Regent for the young Duke Alfonso. Our Government has no official advices on the subject, nor does it consider these reports trustworthy.

MADRID, November 25.—The Cabinet, yesterday, considered the note to be sent to the Government of the United States. It is denied that the Spanish Government is disposed to submit the Virginius question to the Emperor of Germany for arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Dispatches were received to-night by both Secretary Fish and Admiral Polo, Spanish Minister from Madrid, of a character which gives more than heretofore, and promise of peaceful solution of present complications. These gentlemen were in private conference several hours tonight at the residence of Secretary Fish comparing dispatches and discussing generally the situation of affairs. A prominent Government official said tonight that things look more hopeful now than ever.

Orders were received at the Washington Navy Yard, this morning, to fit the Shawnut for sea with all possible dispatch. The work will progress night and day.

The Fortune was launched this morning, and will be ready for sea in a few days. She will carry two 30 pound rifled guns, in addition to her torpedo attachments.

CONSUMPTION!

AND ITS CURE!

Victims of this awful disease are found in every neighborhood, in almost every house. For them and for their friends, we have tidings of good cheer and hope—the announcement of a most important discovery, firmly based upon common sense and reason, by which the terrible malady is positively controlled, and its victims are restored to health.

WILSON'S

Carbolated Cod Liver Oil

Is not a secret empirical nostrum. It is a happy combination of two remedies known to physicians everywhere as the best means of combating consumption. This combination is Mr. Willson's discovery, and is founded upon the following

SOUND REASONING.

Consumption is decay. Soothing, expectorant remedies are only useful as palliatives, they do not reach the cause—they do not stop the decay. Tonic medicines strengthen the life forces and prolong the battle, but the decay goes steadily on, and sooner or later the victim must yield. Climatic changes are sometimes good, but they seldom wholly cure. In short, the very first thing to be done is to STOP THE DECAY; then apply the restorative, tonic and strength giving treatment. Think a moment. The lungs are decaying—tubercles, ulcerations cavities and deposits of poisonous matter (pus) are forming. The circulation carries this poison all over the body. Wasting, loss of appetite, enervation, night sweats, and all the terrible symptoms appear; is it worth while to doctor the symptoms, which are merely the results, while the decay, which is the cause, is eating up the life springs?

These two things are well known by the best physicians:

1st, Carbolic acid positively arrests Decay. It is the most powerful antiseptic in the known world. Even dead bodies are preserved by it. Entering into the circulation, it at once grapples with corruption, and decay ceases. It purifies the sources of disease.

2d, Cod Liver Oil is Nature's best assistant in resisting Consumption. It is at once a food, a tonic, a purifier, and a healer. It braces up and supplies the vital forces, feeds the wasted system, and enables nature to regain her foothold. For these purposes nothing can compare with Cod Liver Oil.—This is the theory of

CARBOLATED COD LIVER OIL,

As described fully in the inventor's circular, which will be mailed, upon application, to any address.

We cannot afford space to tell the whole story here, or to give the numerous certificates from eminent physicians and well known citizens testifying to the absolutely wonderful results flowing from this great discovery. Suffice it to say, it is curing thousands who supposed themselves to be at death's door.

Willson's Carbolated Oil is scientifically prepared with the purest Carbolic Acid, so combined as to be entirely harmless, with from the celebrated fisheries at Aalesund (Norway) pronounced by physicians the most delicate, efficient Cod Liver Oil in the world.

It is easily taken, tolerated by the weakest stomachs, digests readily, never becomes rancid, and is almost entirely free from the usual disagreeable characteristics of Cod Liver Oil.

For every use of Cod Liver Oil Mr. Willson's discovery is of the greatest value.

For the safe internal administration of Carbolic Acid, Mr. Willson's method of combining it with Cod Liver Oil is absolutely necessary.

WILLSON'S

Carbolated Cod Liver Oil!

Is a Specific and Radical Cure for

CONSUMPTION

And Scrofulous Diseases.

Remember the name, "Willson's Carbolated Cod Liver Oil." It comes in large wedge-shaped bottles, bearing the inventor's signature, and is sold by the best druggists.

Prepared by J. H. WILLSON, 83 John St., New York.

Sold by all druggists.

CITY DEPARTMENT.

...Boneless sardines at Imboden's.

...At the West Mission Chapel on Decatur street, there is to be prayer meeting every Thursday evening, and on Sunday evening a series of meetings will be commenced, which will continue of evenings through the week and perhaps longer.

...Pork packing is being put through lively by J. Ullrich & Co. They will pack more this season than in any previous year.

...We learn from Dr. Walston, the attending physician, that Mr. Harruff, who was quite seriously injured on Saturday last by falling under his wagon and the wheel passing over him, is improving as rapidly as could be expected, with a good prospect of being about in a short time.

...Mayor Forstmyer enjoyed Fred Kuny's letter published in the REPUBLICAN hugely. He says he remembers them eggs sure.

...There will be a Thanksgiving service and sermon at St. John's Episcopal church on Thursday (to-morrow), at 11 o'clock A. M. Seats free to all.

.. The Weekly REPUBLICAN, which we print to morrow, will contain all the local news of the week preceding, together with foreign news, giving the different aspects of the Spanish war question as they have unfolded from day to day. A few extra copies may be found at our office.

...We notice a still further advance in the price of corn and oats in the Chicago market, the former commanding 40@12 cents per bushel and the latter 32@32½.

...Nice peach blow potatoes and all kinds of vegetables, at Neidermyer's grocery near the mound.

...We are advised by Mr. James Fowler, who has charge of the highways in the vicinity of the county bridge, that the railing broken by mules backing a wagon against it on Saturday was nearly new, and was not at all rotten. Railings are scarce that a span of mules could not break down by backing, if they set themselves about it in dead earnest.

...Business is lively in town to day, especially the groceries and provision stores are well patronized.

...Milkmen are dispensing cream and milk to day with a lavish hand, preparatory to the doings of to-morrow.

...A regular passenger train runs each day over the I., B. & W. road, leaving the platform of I. C. road at 3.00 p. m., the inward bound train arriving at the same point at 12:40 p. m.

...The county jail is the best patronized boarding house in town.

...Mayor Forstmyer says Fred Funy certainly visited his native place, for he could not have learned that little secret about the egg business anywhere else.

...Old time friends will exchange congratulations to-morrow over stuffed turkey and mince pie.

...Remember the Thanksgiving sociable at the basement rooms of the First M. E. Church to-morrow night. Let everybody be there and help to make it a pleasant, social occasion. There will be good things in abundance with which to console the inner man.

...For extra nice Java or Rio coffee, also for the choicest brands of tea, go to J. Ullrich & Co.'s

...The Wallace Sisters played to a very good house last night The audience seemed to be well entertained with the mixed programme of burlesque theatrical, gymnastics, singing, dancing and the like.

...The alternations between clouds and sunshine continued through yesterday, and to day the clouds are decidedly in the majority. So far as weather is concerned these days nobody knows what a day may bring forth.

...It will be seen by a notice in another place that there is to be services at St. John's Episcopal Church to-morrow. The Church service for this anniversary is most interesting and impressive. The Rector will also preach a sermon appropriate to the occasion. Seats are free, and the public are cordially invited. Services commence at 11 o'clock.

...Union services at the First M. E. Church to-morrow, commencing at 10½ o'clock.

...Turkeys and chickens are passing in their checks to-day, and sacrificing their lives to the promotion of human weal. If appearances indicate anything there must be a great scarcity of poultry after this, unless there is an unlimited supply among the farmers.

...The shelves of our book stores are beginning to look brilliant with their display of holiday goods. The little folks peer in longingly as they pass, and their hearts swell with anticipations of good things to come.

...A citizen of this city says that if any one will buy his house and lot at a fair price he will devote all the money to equipping a company for the Cuban war.

...People should look well to their house plants these frosty nights, or they will "go where the woodbine twineth."

...Young men who part their hair in the middle are cultivating their moustaches vigorously, and stroke where their chin whiskers ought to be with the hope of getting everything in apple-pie order for the approaching holidays.

...A flock of wild geese pased southward last night. They were rather behind the time, and we presume their young people didn't get fully fledged in season for an earlier start.

...The Western Union Telegraph is changing its route through town. Posts are being set from the office westward to the old square, and thence north on Main street to the track of the T., W. & W. Railway.

...The oldest inhabitant has so far recovered from his recent paralytic stroke as to be able to say that most thanksgiving days within his recollection have occasioned fearful loss of life among the feathered tribe, and it is his opinion that to morrow will furnish no exception to this rule. We shall see.

...One pretty good evidence that the panic was the creature of a disordered imagination may be found in the fact that since attention has been called off by the Virginius trouble, business has brightened up wonderfully.

...There being no preacher within thirty miles of Big Creek, Ark., couples marry themselves by kissing each other across a table.

...The public schools will close to-night for the balance of the week. This will give the boys and girls a liberal holiday.

...The Cardiff giant was sold at auction the other day for eight dollars.

...The roof is being put upon the Paris & Decatur Railroad depot. When completed the building will present a fine appearance, and will be a credit to the Company and an ornament to that part of the city.

...Al. Ormsby informs us that as a trapeze performer Doc Maffitt is a success. His last effort was made while in Paris, and met with universal applause by all present. He is engaged for the season.

A Brilliant Party.—We are indebted to Mr. A. C. Ormsby for an account of an elegant party which took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Shoaff, Paris, Ill., last Thursday evening, given by Miss Helen and Godey Shoaff on the occasion of the completion of Mr. Shoaff's new house, one of the most beautiful dwellings in Paris. The party was composed of twelve or fifteen couples of the most beautiful ladies and accomplished young gentlemen of Paris, besides quite a number from abroad: Mr. Will. Green, Mr. Hudnutt and sister, from Terre Haute, and Messrs. Clifton Belzer, D. A. Maffitt and our informant, from Decatur. Music and dancing being the order of the evening was interrupted by the serving of a sumptuous collation, prepared in Mrs. Shoaff's usual good style, after which dancing was resumed, continuing until 3 o'clock, A. M., when the guests departed for their respective homes, well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Our Thanksgiving would be incomplete if we failed to return our thanks to that keen-eyed officer of the law, J. J. H. Young, who contributed a fine turkey for our dinner to-morrow. We shall think of him while the savory morsels melt in our mouth, and thank him for his kindness and thoughtfulness long after the last vestige of his present has disappeared forever.

Closing of Post Office To-morrow.—On thanksgiving day the Post Office will be closed for the day at 10 o'clock a. m. All day mails will be made up at that time. Night mails will go out as usual. I. C. PUGH, P. M.

The Macon County Medical Society will meet on Tuesday, December 2d, at 1 o'clock P. M., at the office of Dr. J. Brown. B. A. ALLISON, Secy.

Masonic—There will be a special meeting of Macon Lodge No. 8 this evening for work. By order of

W. H. GIPSON, W. M.

S. NEWELL, Secy.

Masonic Festival.—The Colored Masons will give a festival at Batteiger's hall on to morrow, Thanksgiving, evening.

New Hack Line.—Culp & Downing have started a new line of hacks, and will transport passengers to and from the depot as reasonably as any other line, and also from one part of the city to the other. Orders left at Hennessy's dollar store, next door north of the Priest House, will receive prompt attention.

No Paper To-morrow.—In order that "all hands," from devil to editor, may have an opportunity of enjoying thanksgiving, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow

Indigestible Bread.—The reason why those baking powders in the market adulterated with Alum, Chalk, Earth and other substances makes bread and biscuits very indigestible, is because they harden the gluten of the wheat and render it less soluble. Now this is not the case with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder; its purity and perfect combination enables it to render all articles easy of digestion, besides preserving their natural taste. Those who have not should test them, as also his elegant Special Flavorings, so strong, so pure, so true. 26-d2w1

For Sale or Rent.—The property known as Weber's Brewery, including the brewery buildings and a dwelling connected, also beer garden, including three acres of land and malt house. All in good running condition and possession can be given immediately. For terms apply to No. 29 Broadway. BARBARA SCHOENIP.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

HARRISTOWN, ILL., Nov. 24, 1873.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN;—Permit me to correct a statement made in the last weekly issue of the REPUBLICAN in regard to the new Sharon M. E. Church. Rev. J. L. But the amount of money was not raised, when the congregation began to disperse. So the dedication was postponed. The formal dedicatory services will be attended to by the pastor, and will take place next Sabbath, Nov. 30th, at 3 o'clock, P. M.
